

Year 1 and 2 Knowledge Organiser - Sensational Safari

Key vocab		London is the capital city of the United Kingdom. It has many famous landmarks such as the Tower of London; the Houses of Parliament, where the government is based; the London Eye and Buckingham Palace, where the Queen lives. London stands on the River Thames and has many bridges that cross from one side of the river to the other. It has a population of over 8 million people. Kenya is located on the continent of Africa. It has a population of roughly 55 million people. capital city	a large city, usually where the government operates from business:	making, buying and selling	Sticky Knowledge
cultural:	to do with the arts and history	London is made up of two cities: the City of London, which is very small, and the City of Westminster, which is much larger.	Because London is the capital city it has lots of monuments that commemorate significant people from the past, such as Nelson's Column in Trafalgar Square.
population:	all the people who live in a place	People travel to London for business, shopping, cultural activities and to visit historic sites.	The bridges that cross the river are also well-known sights, especially Tower Bridge.
government:	the group of people who make the laws in a country	London is in the southeast of England.	Nairobi is the capital of Kenya and is also its largest city.
Historic sites	Historic property or area	England is one of the countries that make up the United Kingdom, which is in the continent of Europe.	Kenya is home to Lake Victoria, which is the second largest freshwater lake on the planet.
Continent	A large area of land	The Thames is England's longest river and the second longest in the UK.	The population of Kenya is around 55 million people.
		London is generally flat but has some small hills: Tower Hill, Hampstead Heath, Highgate Hill and Parliament Hill.	It is home to some of the world's most diverse wildlife such as lions, leopards, rhinos and elephants.
monuments	A statue, building, or other structure to honour a notable person or event.	London has some of the richest people in the world living next to some very poor people.	About 50% of the country is used for agriculture.
		As well as its buildings, London is also known for its underground railway, which is called the Tube.	The longest river in Kenya is the Tana River.

Exciting books!

